14.04.02 APPROVAL OF THE MINUTES from the meeting of March 7, 2014

Moved (Lajoie/Brodbeck): that Senate approve the minutes from the meeting of March 7, 2014.

Motion carried.
BUSINESS ARISING (for action or information)

Research Ethics Board – revised policy

The Speaker informed Senate that the Chair of the REB has asked that the motion to approve the revised policy be tabled for an additional month. The revised policy will be considered at the May meeting of Senate.

St. Thomas extension – status update

The President briefly spoke to the report provided to Senate on the St. Thomas extension.

Schamp asked whether there was an opportunity for the donor continue funding the St. Thomas offsite to compensate for the deficit.

Clarke questioned whether students would be prepared for their third year of studies at AU if they chose to come to the main campus to complete the requirements of their degree.

Burnett asked for the minimum number of students for cohort beginning this fall to run the program. She also asked if there was an idea as to the number of students who are currently in their second year at St. Thomas interested in coming to Algoma to complete their studies.

The President responded that the program could run with six or seven students. It was not clear as to how many students have decided to continue the program.

Graydon commented that since this was a project, at what point, do we make an informed decision on continuing the program given the number of students and financial deficit. Costs have double, yet enrolment has not grown as expected. As well, there is enormous effort on the part of departments to ensure quality control with visits to the campus and mentorship with the faculty teaching the courses.

Gruner suggested that we should establish a date whether we should move forward on a first year cohort at St. Thomas.

Broad added that possibly, part of the problem at St. Thomas is that there is no one department that owns the offerings unlike Brampton and Timmins.

ADHOC By-law committee report – notice of motion

The Speaker noted that the ADHOC By-law committee has submitted some of their revisions to Senate for consideration as a notice of motion. The motion will come forward to Senate for debate at the May meeting.

course will examine the contemporary issues facing Anishinaabe nations, citizens and families, as well as the contemporary and historical role of the Midewiwin in Anishinaabe history. (lec 3) (3 cr). Prerequisite: ANIS 1006/1007.

To:
ANIS 2006 Anishinaabe Social Issues
This course is grounded in the philosophy that “in order to heal, we must know the wound.” Students will individually and collectively examine traditional social structures and values within Anishinaabe society. The course will explore how these structures and values are derived from the Seven Teachings, the Clan System, Anishinaabe architecture, and spirituality. Oral and written sources will be used to consider contemporary issues facing Anishinaabe nations, citizens and families, as well as the contemporary and historical role of the Midewiwin in Anishinaabe history. “Bimaadiziwin” is a central concept in the analysis of the course topic. Prerequisite: ANIS 1006/1007, or permission of the instructor. (lec 3) 3 cr

From:
ANIS 2007 Anishinaabe Social Movements
The course will explore Anishinaabe social activism in a contemporary context. Attention will be given to the American Indian Movement, Women Rights, and Environmental Rights. The impact of Anishinaabe activism on social issues such as poverty, oppression and Anishinaabe ideologies will also be examined. (lec 3) (3 cr) Prerequisite: ANIS 2006.

To:
ANIS 2007 Anishinaabe Social Movements
The course will explore Anishinaabe social activism in a contemporary context, as grounded in the enduring history of the Anishinaabe people. Students will identify and explore connections between Anishinaabe social movements and other social movements in Europe and North America. This will include a critical study of Anishinaabe activism as pioneered by the American Indian Movement (including Alcatraz, Wounded Knee, Trail of Broken Treaties) in the United States and the National Indian Brotherhood in Canada. Anishinaabe women’s rights, environmental justice, “Indian Control of Indian Education,” and other movements will be discussed. In addition, students will learn about the reawakening of traditional spirituality in the context of the Seven Fires Prophesies. Prerequisites: ANIS 1006/1007, or permission of the instructor. (lec 3) 3 cr

From:
ANIS 3006 Government Acts and Policies
This course will focus on the history of government legislation and policies and their impact on Anishinaabe peoples and nations. Specific emphasis will be on the nature of self-government as interpreted by government both provincial and federal. A thorough treatment of the constitutional status of Anishinaabe peoples that involves a complete analysis of the unique and complex relationship between the Canadian government and Anishinaabe nations which cannot be adequately discussed by simple reference to the Treaties, Canadian, Provincial legislation and Supreme Court decisions. Prerequisite: ANIS 2006/2007 (lec 3) 3 cr

To:
ANIS 3006 Government Acts and Policies
This course examines issues of law and governance relevant to Anishinaabe peoples in Canada and the United States. It includes the history of government legislation and policies with a focus on their impact on Anishinaabe peoples and nations, particularly the Indian Act, Canada’s Constitution Act and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples. To ensure a thorough treatment of the constitutional status of Anishinaabe peoples, much of the course will be directed toward understanding the foundational principles of Anishinaabe law, governance and treaty-making. Prerequisites: ANIS 2006/2007, or permission of the instructor. (lec 3) 3 cr

From:
ANIS 3007 Treaties
This course will focus on Treaties including pre-confederation Treaties (Jay Treaty 1794 and the 1848 Treaty of Guadalupe-Hidalgo both of special significance for the Anishinaabe nations along the borders of the United States with Canada and Mexico respectively); Robinson-Huron Treaty 1850; Robinson-Superior Treaty 1850; Douglas Treaty 1850-1854/Maritime Treaties; the numbered Treaties; and modern day Treaties (James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement; Nunavut). The course will provide students a thorough understanding of the Treaty process; the Royal Proclamation, 1763 and the Crown’s fiduciary and trust obligations. The course will emphasize the history of government legislation and policies and their impact on Anishinaabe peoples and nations. Specific attention will be placed on the nature of self-government as interpreted by government (provincial and federal). Prerequisite: ANIS 2006 or permission from the instructor. (lec 3) 3 cr

To:
ANIS 3007 Treaties
This course will provide students with a thorough understanding of the Treaty process as well as their historical and contemporary meaning. Students will examine the history of government legislation and policies and their impact on Anishinaabe people. The course will examine the Royal Proclamation of 1763; the Crown’s fiduciary and trust obligations; pre-confederation Treaties; the Robinson
Huron Treaty 1850 and Robinson Superior Treaty 1850; the numbered Treaties; and recent Treaties including the James Bay and Northern Quebec Agreement and the establishment of Nunavut. The course examines Treaties between Canadian and Anishinaabe peoples from the vantage point of two treaty-making traditions, both Anishinaabe and European. Students will identify their place within each treaty making tradition, reflecting on their relationship to these agreements, to each other and to the land. Prerequisites: ANIS 2006/2007, or permission of the instructor. (lec 3) 3 cr

14.04.06.02 Dean

The Dean submitted a written report.

14.04.06.03 VPAR

The VPAR submitted a written report.

14.04.06.04 President

The President submitted a written report.

He updated Senate on the plans to relocate FAST/MUSC offerings to the former St. Mary’s Paper site adding that the Board would be reviewing the proposal at its next meeting. In an effort to attract more students for studio/performance, we need quality space.
Discussion followed on the workshop held by Larry Goldstein regarding academic prioritization. Gruner added that we have governance over issues of prioritization which should be discussed by senators.

The President stated that we need a more systematic approach in setting our academic priorities.

Johnston added that he is concerned with issue of academic prioritization and that if this is the direction the university will go, then administrative units should also be prioritized.

Burnett suggested that more faculty members might consider attending Board of Governors meetings in order to be able to communicate directly with Board members.

Graydon made it clear that there was much confusion with Goldstein’s workshop and that there was not enough communication to faculty prior to the session.

Broad added that the session was not about data collection, but rather what type of decision-making to be made, process rather than objective data.

Graydon informed Senate that the session was nothing short of a debacle adding that the faculty was very suspicious of the discussion during the workshop.

Vaillancourt added there was much confusion as to what was happening with no idea of process. As well, can someone speak to the PIF application that contained the material on academic prioritization.

Boyle stated that with the lack of communication at the university, there is a good degree of skepticism and distrust.

Myers added that we have no intention of applying the Dickeson model of academic prioritization, however, we need to make informed decisions to meet our institutional mission.
